Autism center conducts workshop

A Kuwait Center for Autism (KCA) team recently went to Dammam Center for Autism to conduct a training programme/workshop on autism.

Dr Samira Al-Saad, founder and director of the Autism Center, conducted the programme.

Dr Al-Saad was accompanied by the Head-teacher of the Center, Ms Raja Al-Tuaitan, and the psychologist of the Center, Ms Khezzna Al-Sayed.

The training programme took place at the Dammam Handicap Society from Nov 22 to Nov 25, 1999.

The team presented the Course Level 1 —

"How to Work with an Autistic Child." Many educationists, parents and other interested persons attended.

This is the third Center from Saudi Arabia, apart from Al-Jubail and Al-Riyadh Centers, to invite KCA to conduct workshops on autism.

"We are sowing seeds of friendship and team work in our neighbouring countries by conducting workshops and training programmes in this field. Let's work together in building a better and brighter future for autistic people everywhere, especially in Kuwait and the Arabian Gulf", said Dr Samira.
